WHAT IT IS

The Air Glove is the minimalist glove in the Troy Lee Designs lineup. It features a breathable Lycra mesh material on the back of the hand and a vented Clarino palm. Silicone screen-printed graphics on the palm adds traction, and 3D sonic-welded rubber graphics add a bit of protection.

HITS

- ▶ Thanks to its non-padded palm, there is virtually no break-in time required.
- ▶ The glove is supremely comfortable and non-restrictive.
- ▶ Airflow is abundant, as there are minimal additions to the back of the hand.

- ▶ Velcro closure at wrist makes the glove easy to get in and out of.
- ▶ Durability is excellent, and the glove can be thrown straight into the washing machine.

MISSES

- ▶ As is the case with all minimalist gloves, roost can hurt.

THE VERDICT

The Troy Lee Designs Air Glove is one of our favorite gloves, period. It is comfortable, does not bunch up in your palm, requires no break-in, and flows a ton of air. We love it!
